

In a parallel universe, there is a British musician born in the same year and sharing my name. He most often represents himself by his band name, “the The.” While I’m more Jazz & Classical, he’s more Rock & Pop.

Our biographical & discography information has been melded together on the Internet many times and has now found its way into the print media—most notably in the book, “Celebrities In Hell” by Warren Allen Smith ...published by Barricade Books.

Ironically, I regularly work within faith based communities...and simply want to point out that quotes within that book are not mine and do not represent me.

Peace,

Matt Johnson

www.MattJohnsonMusic.com